Thanks Buddy. Are you excited about your team going to the frozen tundra Sunday afternoon?
Prediction?

Yes. I'll work my schedule around those weeks in March, but just keep me posted on any changes as it gets closer.

Hi:

Attached is the updated schedule. I have no idea how things are going to work out. If all goes well with disposal, we should be done by the end of the month or so. However, the room build out is another story. That would be a minimal crew and indoor work for the most part. I just put some hours through mid-March. I postponed my SPCC trip to PR from Feb to March 12th. So, I can stay at the end of January through until our OSC training. Let me know if that works.. So after your next tour on January 16th, the next would be the end of February if needed.

Please let me know.

Thanks. Tomorrow we start loading out again. Please just put in for OT. Doesn't hurt. Schedule is the same until work dictates otherwise. Bring your long johns!!

Eric

These are docs from the week of the 12/19. (I think I had already sent you the disposal log.)

Are you are back on schedule with 10 trucks/day now, right?

Let me know if the January schedule is still on target. I'll need to send in OT/CTT request for next PP.

Thanks.
